

CSU Fort Collins Enrollment and Student Success Census Fall 2026

Executive Summary

Fall 2026 total enrollment is 33,461 students, down -2.8% from Fall 2025. Undergraduate enrollment is down -2.5% to 26,175, while graduate enrollment is down -4.1% to 6,584. The decline is concentrated among non-resident, non-WUE undergraduates (-9.8%), while resident undergraduate enrollment is up +0.8%. Non-RI enrollment decreased -4.0%, which exceeds the decrease in RI enrollment (-2.5%). The decrease in non-RI is mostly due to a -4.5% decrease in Learning Innovation (formally CSU Online) students.

CSU welcomes 5,411 new first-year students and 1,305 transfer students. Compared to the FA25 incoming undergraduate cohorts, new first-year students increased +0.7% while new transfer students decreased -5.3%. At the same time, the undergraduate population continues to become more diverse, with increases in first-generation students (+3.5%) and racially minoritized students (+4.1%).

Enrollment changes vary considerably across colleges. Walter Scott Jr. College of Engineering (+5.2%), Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences (+5.9%), and Health and Human Sciences (+3.1%) experience the strongest growth, while two of our largest colleges, Natural Sciences (-8.2%) and Liberal Arts (-4.0%), see the largest declines among the colleges. The large decrease in Intra-University (-13.7%) is likely an artifact of changes in advising and orientation processes, which could influence earlier major declaration among Exploratory Studies majors.

Student credit hour (SCH) production totals 403,735, a -2.6% decrease from Fall 2025, closely tracking the decline in overall enrollment. Resident-instruction SCH is down -2.5%, while non-resident-instruction SCH is down -3.4%.

First-year retention is down -1.5 percentage points to 86.4%, with resident retention down -2.4 points to 86.5%, while non-resident retention remains essentially stable at 86.3%. Retention gaps remain for first-generation students (79.6%), Pell recipients (80.8%), and racially minoritized students (83.0%).

Graduation outcomes are improving. The four-year graduation rate increased +4.1 percentage points to 55.2%, and the six-year graduation rate increased +1.6 points to 68.3%. Improvements in four-year graduation occur across many student groups, including first-generation students (+5.2 points), racially minoritized students (+4.3 points), and both resident (+4.8 points) and non-resident (+3.1 points) students. Despite these gains, substantial differences in graduation rates persist, particularly for first-generation and Pell-recipient students.

Overall, Fall 2026 enrollment and SCH are lower compared to Fall 2025, reflecting several factors, including fewer new transfer students, fewer non-residents, and improved four-year graduation rates. While faster degree completion reduces continuing enrollment and SCH, it is also an important measure of student success. The result is a mixed story: enrollment is lower, in part because more students are graduating and doing so more quickly, while declines in new transfer and non-resident enrollment remain areas for attention.
